LARGEST PUBLIC SCHOOL DISTRICT IN OREGON USA TO COMMENCE WITH NOVITA

Novita Healthcare Limited (ASX: NHL) (“Novita” or the “Company”) is pleased to announce that Faubion public school in Portland, USA (the school), is commencing with Tali, Novita’s breakthrough ATTENTION assessment and training technology.

In partnership with Novita, the School has initially identified a group of 20 children who would benefit from early intervention to assess and strengthen core attention.

Whilst the initial commencement numbers are modest, the significance of this school district to Novita should be noted. Portland Public Schools (PPS) is the largest school district in the state of Oregon, providing public education for nearly 50,000 students in kindergarten through to 12th grade. The district provides a number of services including general education, career and technology education, and for students with special needs.

The PPS budget to deliver special needs services is approximately US$16m, which may include Tali. Together with our parallel partner and sales activities, successful completion by the initial group of children at Faubion will provide a case study in Portland for potential wider adoption of Tali in other school districts in Oregon.

As referenced in our announcement on 18th April regarding commencement at Nampa school district in Idaho, programs such as these are optimal partners/delivery channels for the Tali technology platform. The Company confirms that it is continuing to identify and execute on sales and partnerships domestically and internationally and will continue to update the market appropriately.

Managing Director Comment

Novita Managing Director Glenn Smith said: “Having a public school such as Faubion commence with Tali will be invaluable in demonstrating the value of Tali in a wider public school context. The activation at Faubion will strengthen our broader and longer-term marketing and sales objectives for the USA market”.
